This is the intermediate Latin class this term, for students in their second year of college-level Latin.

Aims of the course:

- To read Medieval Latin and gain familiarity with representative texts from late antiquity and the Middle Ages.
- To develop a sense of Latin as a living, evolving language.
- To learn about the classical tradition and the transmission of ancient texts.
- To gain better understanding of the evolution of western culture, from late antiquity to the renaissance of the twelfth century.
